

COAL CREEK BATTLE

Details of the Fight in the Tennessee Mines.

FIVE MEN WERE KILLED IN ALL.

Three Militiamen and Two Miners—Several Others Were Wounded—Captain Anderson Restored to His Command.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 20.—At 7 o'clock last night a special train bearing the two volunteers who were killed in the battle at Coal Creek yesterday morning, three men who were wounded, and 125 volunteers who went to the front Thursday night, rolled into the depot. Three thousand people were gathered about the station and the excitement was higher than at any time since the trouble began.

When the train stopped the men, who bore every indication of actual service on the field of battle, poured out of the coaches and formed in a line, through which their two dead comrades were carried in military style. The company formed with arms reversed and marched behind the remains of the dead volunteers to the court house. Not until the arrival of this train was it possible to get a correct statement of the battle and the exciting incidents leading up to it. Five men were killed in all.

The dead militiamen are: John T. Walther, of this city, railway clerk, aged twenty-two.

Bruce Givens, farmer, of Knox county, aged thirty-nine.

Militiamen of the Second regiment, name unknown, supposed to be from Chattanooga.

The wounded on the side of the military are:

Thomas L. Carty, lawyer of this city, shot through the left groin. His injuries may prove fatal.

Samuel G. Heiskel, prominent lawyer and Democratic politician, slightly injured.

John Milton, a laborer, slightly wounded.

Two miners were killed. They are: George Miller, of Coal Creek.

George Meil, of Oneida, Tenn.

John Wilson, a miner of Coal Creek, was slightly wounded in the heel.

J. M. Gaut, a business man of this city, and one of the volunteers, was badly injured by falling over a ledge of rocks.

The battle commenced at 6:30 yesterday morning and lasted nearly half an hour. Four of Colonel Woodford's soldiers who were along with the Knoxville boys were captured. They were soon released. The volunteers and 100 soldiers of the second regiment reached Offutt, a small village this side of Coal Creek, about 11 o'clock Thursday night. After thoroughly discussing the situation and conferring by wire with Brigadier General Carnes, it was decided to go at once to the relief of Fort Anderson.

Major D. A. Carpenter, who soldiered in that vicinity during the war and who is thoroughly acquainted with the topography of the country, took command of the men. They left Offutt about 2 o'clock and went across Walden's ridge by a circuitous route so as to reach Fort Anderson from a point farthest removed from the village of Coal Creek. The night was dark as pitch and the loneliness of the road was depressing. The sides of Walden's ridge are very steep and are covered with huge boulders and ledges of sandstone. Over these obstructions the brave fellows, many of whom had never been in the mountains before, climbed and then descended. Their clothing was torn and their hands and faces were scratched by the branches.

Just after they started down the mountain on the north side toward Fort Anderson, the men were divided into three squads, under command of Captain W. L. Ledgerwood, General D. D. Anderson and Colonel S. L. Woodford, respectively. Soon afterward three men, all uniformed and claiming to be friendly to the soldiers appeared and offered to pilot the regiment down the mountain. Without suspicion the troops followed them into a well-planned ambush. Ledgerwood's men were in front. At a point within a quarter of a mile of Fort Anderson the firing commenced from behind the great ledges of sandstone on a spur of the ridge overlooking the valley, where the men were marching.

The stars and stripes at Fort Anderson were in full view, and the men were feeling relieved at the near approach of reinforcements and were joking with each other, when bullets began whistling about their ears. Ledgerwood's men had passed the ambushade before firing commenced and they received a volley of bullets in the back. Carty, Walther, Givens and Heiskel were all in this party. The other companies faced about at once and opened fire on the ambushade. As the firing became general men seemed to rise up from behind every stump and stone in sight. They were all well armed and greatly outnumbered the military.

Major Carpenter, seeing that the odds were greatly against him, ordered all three companies to retreat, and the long march over the mountain to Offutt was commenced again. The dead and wounded of both sides were left on the field of battle. The miners, after capturing four of Woodford's men, started on a retreat themselves. Seeing that Carpenter was going rapidly in the opposite direction the four soldiers were released and allowed to return to their regiment.

The regiment reached Offutt on their retreat about 10 o'clock, thoroughly exhausted. They had eaten nothing since noon of the previous day and were hungry as wolves. They notified General Carnes that they were at his service if needed, and many plucky young fellows, thoroughly stirred up over the loss of three of their comrades, wanted to go to Coal Creek anyway. General Carnes wired them that he could manage Coal Creek with his regiment, and they started around the country, among farm houses, and ate their first meal in twenty-four hours. A squad of picked men returned to the battlefield and brought the dead and wounded into Coal Creek under a flag of truce.

The miners were the first to retreat when the firing commenced in earnest. Large numbers of them rushed down the valley into the village and right in the hands of General Carnes. The third man reported killed is causing some talk. Many of the soldiers say they are sure three men fell and General Carnes reports it officially. A soldier who walked nearly all the way from Coal Creek says a man in citizens clothes who was on the edge of a precipice near him when the firing commenced, was struck by a bullet and fell some twenty feet below. He is sure the man was killed.

Walther, one of the men killed, went to the front of the column without a gun.

A coroner's inquest was held over the bodies of Walther and Givens as soon as they arrived here. The jury decided that the deceased came to their death at the hands of parties engaged in a lawless attempt to take Fort Anderson.

CAPTAIN ANDERSON RELEASED.

General Carnes Restores Him to His Command.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 20.—General Carnes is monarch of all he surveys at Coal Creek. He occupies a meadow midway between the village and Fort Anderson. Passengers on the last train, which left there at 5 o'clock, say that he had taken about one hundred of the insurgents prisoners and is guarding them near his camp. The garrison at Fort Anderson has been increased to 200 men and one hundred picked men are guarding the depot and railroad property.

Soon after his arrival yesterday morning he demanded the release of Captain Anderson, and gave the miners until 1 o'clock to produce him. One o'clock came, 2 and 3 o'clock passed by, and the miners had not turned over the captive. He then ordered his men to arrest all suspicious looking men. They went around the village and arrested men promiscuously until one hundred men had been taken into camp. He addressed them as follows: "You promised to release Captain Anderson at 1 o'clock. You have broken faith with me. You shall produce him in one hour or I will proceed to burn every house in town and will shoot every one of you down."

In less than an hour, a committee sent out for the purpose, marched into camp and surrendered the prisoner. He immediately resumed command at Fort Anderson. He had been concealed in a little farm house on the outskirts of the village.

One of the men arrested yesterday afternoon by General Carnes was the negro miner who boasted that he killed Bruce Givens in the battle in the morning. He will probably be held on a charge of murder in the first degree.

General Carnes also has Bud Lindsay, the leader of the miners, under arrest at Coal Creek. He is a deputy United States marshal and a thoroughly desperate character. He has killed several men. It was he who proposed hanging Captain Anderson Thursday, and was only prevented by his brother who is a good citizen and postmaster at Coal Creek.

BUFFALO TROUBLE OVER.

Freight Being Moved By Non-Union Men.

BUFFALO, Aug. 20.—Important news developed here yesterday afternoon. It is that Knights of Labor from eastern places are here to take the positions made vacant by the strike of the non-union switchmen, and that the old hands who struck Monday night are falling over each other in their endeavors to be back in the employ of the New York Central road. Another interesting thing is, that before Monday morning, most all of the non-union switchmen who struck will be back at work.

Not a Central freight train at Buffalo has been sent out at night since Monday, and for the first time this week they went east last night under the protection of troops.

Yesterday afternoon a committee of several striking non-union switchmen waited on Assistant Superintendent Gould and asked if they could go back to work. They were led by John Welch. "We have come to our senses," said Welch. "We are ready to go back to work because we believe now that there are enough troops here to protect us. The reason we struck was because we thought we would get killed if we remained at work. We were threatened by the strikers from other roads. The men approached us and threatened to take our lives if we remained at work."

The switchmen will probably be put to work. A. J. was quiet at Black Rock yesterday. The Central and Erie yards presented a peaceful appearance. The Erie was doing nothing. At 9:30 in the morning the Michigan Central brought over forty-four carloads of live stock to the Central. Two engines took the cars out to East Buffalo. No soldiers accompanied the train and it got through all right. Engines moved to and fro, but no other freights were moved out.

It is understood that several companies have been detailed to guard the Black Rock yards, because the Central intends to begin moving freight right away.

C. A. Beach, trainmaster of the New York Central at Syracuse, was yesterday sent for to take charge of the company's East Buffalo yards. The trainmaster, Thomas Maloney, who has been acting as general yardmaster, was assigned to the charge of the Ohio street yards, through which the lake freight passes. Mr. Maloney has his hands full there handling the large amount of freight that passes through there. From the report made by Assistant Superintendent Rossiter he has been caring for it in good shape.

The Lehigh Valley has plenty of men to work in their yards, but little was done yesterday in the way of sending out freight. One train was sent to Suspension Bridge and two trains were sent out during the afternoon to Hornellsville.

Scale Signed.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Aug. 20.—After being in session all day, the conference committee of the Amalgamated Association with the iron manufacturers of the Mahoning and Shenango valleys, agreed upon a scale at 10 o'clock last night. The scale agreed upon is the same as that at Pittsburgh, except that instead of a graded reduction there is a cut of 10 per cent straight on all finishers covered by the scale. All the mills will sign the scale and begin operations at once. Over 10,000 men will return to work after a shut down of two months.

MISSIONARIES ENDANGERED.

Protection Asked for Americans Residing in Asia Minor.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—The secretary of state has received a cablegram from the United States charge d'affaires at Constantinople informing him that the house of Dr. Bartlett, an American missionary at Bourdour, province of Konia, Asia Minor, has been burned, and that the lives of the missionaries are in danger. He believes that if prompt action is not taken the missionary cause and lives of the missionaries will be in serious danger in other places.

The building of Dr. Bartlett's residence was originally stopped by the local authorities. On application being made for permission to complete the same, it was refused unless Dr. Bartlett would furnish a bond or guarantee to neither hold religious worship nor instruct children on the premises. The withholding of the permit was claimed to be under orders from Constantinople. Thelegation applied to the sublime porte for such permission, claiming that treaty rights of Americans extended not only to the purchase of land, but to the enjoyment of the same. The permit was finally granted by the sultan, and it appears that after the receipt of this permit by the local authorities the house was burned.

Secretary Foster promptly cabled the charge to make urgent demand for effective protection, indemnity, punishment of the guilty parties and reprimand of the authorities found remiss. The United States cruisers Newark and Bennington, now on their way to Genoa, will be ordered to the vicinity of the outrage to support this demand.

Secretary of State Foster said that the complaints of infringements of treaty rights of American missionaries in Turkey had been accumulating since 1883, and in one notable instance, that of the outrage upon Rev. Mr. Knapp and Dr. Reynolds by Mousa Bey in this same province of Asia Minor, it had taken several years to secure the punishment of the offender, and the United States was now determined to see if American citizens had any treaty rights which the Turkish authorities were bound to respect.

Catholics Elect Officers.

TOLEDO, Aug. 20.—The convention of the Irish Catholic Benevolent union was brought to a close at noon yesterday. The election of officers was as follows: President, T. M. Daley, of Philadelphia; first vice president, J. J. Behan, of Kingston, Ont.; second vice president, Miss Kate Reilly, of Toledo; treasurer, Michael McGlennan, of Norfolk, Va.; secretary, Martin J. Griffin, of Philadelphia. Executive committee—J. J. Murphy, of Toledo; John M. Higgins, of Richmond; J. M. Kelly, of Camden, N. J. Pittsburg was selected for the place of the next annual meeting.

Found the Old Cornerstone.

BROOKVILLE, Ind., Aug. 20.—While making a survey yesterday for the purpose of establishing a section line through this place, in driving a stake an obstacle was encountered, which on investigation, proved to be the long-lost and deeply-covered cornerstone of the original survey.

Tannery Destroyed.

BANGOR, Me., Aug. 20.—Fire at Winn Thurstay destroyed H. Poor & Son's tannery. Loss probably $75,000, insured. Forty to sixty men were employed in the tannery and one hundred on outside work. The works will probably not be rebuilt. The insurance is large.

Steamer Wrecked—Thirty Drowned.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 20.—The steamer Grigorieff, plying upon the Volga and its tributaries, has been wrecked at Nijni-Novgorod. A heavy storm was prevailing at the time. Thirty of the passengers and crew were drowned.

Drowned While Bathing.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 20.—George Ogden, a traveling salesman for Kraus, Ingham & Hester, of this city, was drowned in the Susquehanna river at Lewisburg, Pa., yesterday, while bathing.

Earthquake in California.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 20.—A light earthquake shock was felt at San Jose and San Cruse last night. The weather throughout the state is warm, the temperature raging over 100 in many places.

Base Ball.

At Cincinnati—Cincinnati 4, Philadelphia 3.
At Chicago—Chicago 7, Brooklyn 4.
At Pittsburg—Pittsburg 6, Boston 0.
At Cleveland—The Cleveland-New York game postponed on account of rain.

Lydia Has Other People's Sealskins.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 20.—It is reported here that the revenue cutter Rush seized the whaling bark Lydia on July 28 at Dueth harbor, Alaska, for having sealskins obtained in Behring sea on board. The Lydia was sent to Sitka.

IRON HALL INVESTIGATION.

Supreme Justice Somerby Makes Some Important Admissions.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 20.—The investigation of the affairs of the Iron Hall was resumed before Judge Taylor yesterday with Supreme Justice Somerby still on the stand. His admissions were important. He stated that when the $170,000 was loaned to the Philadelphia bank it was presumed by the supreme officers to be individual money of Supreme Cashier Davis, but that all knew that it was Iron Hall money and winked at the transaction. The $88,000 that was sent to Secretary Hayes at Philadelphia to be invested, he stated, had been invested in bonds of the Mutual bank.

Under close questioning and with reluctance he admitted that the bonds were absolutely worthless. He further admitted that he was compelled to discharge his son-in-law, McMeacham, supreme adjuster, in order to gain the consent of Walker & Davis for the loan of $170,000 for the bank. The plaintiff's produced documentary evidence to show that $200,000 had been drawn ostensibly as a loan to the bank and receipted for, but that $30,000 of this amount was never accounted for.

FOLLOWED INSTRUCTIONS.

A Negro Shoots a White Man Because He Was Told To.

CUMBERLAND, Md., Aug. 20.—At Martinsburg, W. Va., a sensational tragedy occurred yesterday, the result of a negro's too literal translation of his instructions. G. F. Evans, the owner of a fine lawn and residence near where the circus tent of the Harris Nickel Plate combination had been pitched, stationed a negro named Viney near the lawn and gave him instructions to shoot down the first person who attempted to walk across his premises.

The negro faithfully obeyed the order, for when an attaché of the circus, a white man, name not given, started to make a short cut across the lawn, Viney deliberately fired and shot him dead. The other employees of the circus, learning why Viney did this deed, sought out Evans and throwing a rope around his neck started to lynch him. Harris, their employer, finally prevented them from hanging him, and both Evans and Viney are now in jail.

Insane Woman Commits Suicide.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 20.—Lily Gilmore hanged herself yesterday with a strip of cloth on a transom over a door at her home, 534 College avenue. She had recently been released from Dr. Fletcher's sanitarium, and was supposed to be cured, having been treated for mental aberration. She was thirty-two years old and unmarried. Several years ago, while Dr. Fletcher was superintendent of the insane hospital she was an inmate, remaining about one year, when she left apparently cured and went to Chicago, where she trained for a nurse and worked in that capacity for three years, when she again became irrational. She returned and entered the asylum, leaving there last April and going to Dr. Fletcher's sanitarium, where she remained until the 17th of May.

May Yet Die of His Wounds.

GREENCASTLE, Ind., Aug. 20.—Otway Ruark, the young man shot by Marshal Starr in this city a month or more ago, is no better, and his recovery is now despaired of by his friends. Yesterday an operation was performed for the removal of the pus from the plural cavity, but it failed of its object. His stomach rejects all nourishment, and the dreaded rigors are growing more and more frequent. It will be remembered that Ruark was shot during a midnight melee in which the officer was struck on the head with a stone and was fleeing from him to avoid arrest. Marshal Starr is still disabled for duty by reason of his injuries.

Old Man Attempts Suicide.

MORROW, O., Aug. 20.—Mr. Richard Fairchild, an old and respected citizen of Morrow, made an attempt to take his own life last night. He is seventy-two years of age and blind. About 11:30 p. m. he went to a shed in his back yard and fired two shots from a 22 caliber revolver at his skull. One of them made only a scalp wound and glanced off. The other penetrated the skull and lodged in the brain. The surgeons have been unable to extract the ball and Mr. Fairchild lies in a comatose condition with no prospect of recovery. The only assignable cause for the act is temporary aberration caused by despondency.

Arrested for Embezzlement.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 20.—Stanley A. Austin, the young paymaster of the Upon Nut company, was arrested last night at his home for embezzlement. He is accused of falsifying the payrolls of the company for the past three years. Austin confesses to have taken $20,000 and the real amount will probably prove to be greater. High living and fast horses are the cause of his downfall. A few days ago he purchased an interest in the great racer El Monarch, and when arrested he was preparing to go to Chicago with a heavy sum of money in his pocket to bet on the races there.

Not Yet Settled.

CANTON, O., Aug. 20.—Canton Woman's Relief corps has issued a circular condemning the action of the national court martial in suspending Past Department President Ada F. Clark and censuring the court and national president, and assuring Mrs. Clark of its belief in her innocence of charges preferred against her. The circular, which is in the form of a series of resolutions, is signed by a large number of leading Relief Corps members. It is understood Mrs. Clark is preparing to appeal her case.

Soda's Fatal Sizzle.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—Harry Karner, fifty, employed in a soda water factory, was instantly killed this morning by the bursting of one of the soda fountains.

BRIGHT PROSPECTS.

Brilliant Outlook for Fall Trade Everywhere.

R. G. DUN'S WEEKLY REVIEW.

Good Crops and Abundant Supplies Improving Business, While Labor Troubles Have Only Slightly Interfered with Trade.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—R. G. Dun & Company's weekly review of trade says: Later advices from the west promise rather better crops of wheat and corn, and cotton prospects are a little better, though neither yield will approach that of last year. With abundant supplies brought over the outlook is so good that business distinctly improves, and the prospect for fall trade is everywhere considered bright.

The great strikes in New York, Pennsylvania and Tennessee appear to have scarcely an appreciable effect upon business, and though interruption of traffic is threatened on many important railroads, stocks are generally steady or strong closing but a small fraction lower than a week ago. More gold has gone abroad, but money is abundant and easy and collections in almost all quarters are more satisfactory than usual.

Wheat has been weaker, and declined three-quarters of a cent, with western receipts exceeding 5,200,000 bushels in four days, while Atlantic exports were not 1,500,000 bushels and sales here only 16,000,000 bushels. Reports of harvesting in spring wheat regions are more encouraging. Corn has advanced a cent on sales of only 3,000,000 bushels, mainly because of possible interruption of traffic, for western reports are definitely more promising, especially as to Kansas and Illinois. Oats have declined only a quarter, but yard is a shade stronger. Oil is three-quarters of a cent lower and coffee five-eighths higher, with some speculative activity.

In cotton a further decline of a sixteenth has occurred, and sales have been 598,000 bales, the actual movement at this season being insignificant, while crop prospects with the heavy stocks on hand tend to depress prices. Speculation in tin has made little change, and buyers of cotton are so slow that eleven and five-eighths cents is quoted, while lead is a shade lower. Trade is quiet at Boston, and in retail lines moderate, with stocks well cleaned up. Orders for dress goods from the west are large, and cotton jobbers have no difficulty in selling the whole production, higher prices for bleached goods being expected. The print cloth trade is enormous. Boot and shoe trade is healthy, though profits are small. Wool is fairly active and firm and the outlook rosy.

At Hartford trade improves in all lines except wool and dry goods; hardware is firmer and an advance expected, groceries are in good demand, some at better prices, and the tobacco crop promises well. Iron is steady at Philadelphia, and finished products improving, the trade in hardware being fair and exceeding last year's. Business in dry goods is satisfactory and in groceries up to the average. At Baltimore receipts of fruit and vegetables are not equal to demands of packers, and manufacturers of clothing are busy. Iron mills at Pittsburg will soon resume, but at present shipments of coke are the smallest for some time, and gasiness in window glass is not active.

At Cincinnati trade is quiet, but prospects fine, and withdrawals of whisky are unusually heavy. Fair activity is seen at Cleveland with healthy trade, and rolled iron products very active and firm. General trade at Chicago is better than in any other year and collections better. At Milwaukee collections are slow, but trade is largely in excess of last year. St. Paul reports a slight increase in business and the harvest resulting in a good yield. At Minneapolis, trade is good. Business at St. Louis is generally satisfactory and at Kansas City good, with large receipts of cattle, hogs and wheat.

Improvement is also seen with brighter prospects at Little Rock and Nashville, and while trade is quiet at New Orleans, sugar is strong and active but receipts of rice are light, the crop having been damaged by rains. Western iron mills have not fully resumed, but the present demand for bar, plates, sheets and structural iron is very active, and mills are full of orders. Pig is unchanged, but a sale of grey forge equal to $7.94, at Birmingham, is recorded. Cottons are in great demand and firm though weather has checked the week's sales. Carpets are quite active with an advance of 1-2 in Philadelphia in grains.

In fall woollens business is heavy, but orders for spring goods are rather smaller and more largely in low grades. Business in dress goods crowds the manufacturers, many having sold more than they may be able to deliver. Sales of wool at the three largest markets since the middle of May have been 91,000,000 pounds against 70,500,000 last year. Production of boots and shoes is now estimated at 165,000,000 pairs, and eastern shipments last week were 6,000 cases more than a week ago. Exports from New York for two weeks have exceeded last year's by 7 per cent, but imports are enormous for the season for two weeks at New York, 52 per cent greater than last year.

As cotton may not be largely required abroad for some time continued exports of gold are not surprising, but for the week are not large. Treasury reserves have been reduced only $200,000, and no change has been made in circulation, and on the whole the financial outlook is satisfactory.

The business failures occurring throughout the country during the last seven days number: For the United States 172, and for Canada 25, total of 197, as compared with 189 last week and 184 the week previous to the last.

DIPHTHERIA ABATING.

The BULLETIN interviewed several of Maysville's physicians late yesterday afternoon and this morning, and they all reported that the diphtheria is abating in this city. The matter has been exaggerated in the surrounding country. A woman who was in town yesterday stated that a certain citizen was in her neighborhood Thursday and reported one hundred new cases in Maysville. This is a gross exaggeration. The physicians talked to report no new cases, and the few cases they have are almost well, with one exception, and that one is improving. The disease never has been as bad as reported. There have been only four or five deaths from it, and two or three of these resulted largely from neglect,—from failure to call in a physician until too late.

While the disease is abating, there should be no abatement in the precautions against any new cases being contracted. Children who have the disease should be kept at home until entirely well.

DANIEL O'CONNELL said: "Protection is robbery—robbery of the poor by the rich." And every intelligent Irishman knows that what Daniel O'Connell said is true, remarks the Courier-Journal.

A Scared Animal.

Swift footed animals that have been tamed, with abundant facilities for making a living of their own, are apt to take French leave in spite of kind treatment, although in moments of danger such renegades will sometimes remember an old protector and volunteer to renounce their habits of truancy. The post trader of the Forbin de San Pablo, near Mazatlan, raised a young ocelot, which hung about the house, or rather the ranch, for a couple of years, but at last ceased to recognize the authority of its landlord. Juanita would absent herself for weeks together and visit the post only as a guest, or a privileged member of an inspecting committee, for she rummages the premises, appears and disappears without asking anybody's leave, and resents every attempt at familiarity on the part of her former owner. But one evening she had just entered the store when a troop of horsemen alighted at the gate, and a minute later a government scout with a big wolf dog stepped up to the counter, while his companions deposited their saddlebags near the open door.

Juanita cast an uneasy glance at the blockaded door and in the next instant caught sight of the dog and he of her, when the attitude of both parties became so disagreeably suggestive of an impending set-to that the scout reached for a stick to chase the dog out. But Juanita either misconstrued his motive or had already made up her mind to secure a vantage ground, for just when he faced about she leaped upon the counter and with the next jump upon the shoulder of her old master, and there proceeded to "get her back up," growling viciously and bristling up to twice her natural size, like a cat.—San Francisco Chronicle.

About a National Flower.

There is very little use in talking about an American national flower. We are not a nation, no matter how many big N's we may put to the word, in the sense that Englishmen and Frenchmen constitute a nation. What is typical in one section of our continental republic is not typical in another, and an emblem which might mean a great deal in New England or New York would have but an artificial significance in Louisiana or California. State flowers we might have, and to some extent we do have them. California has formally adopted the Eschscholtzia, or California poppy, as its emblem. Maine men wear a pine branch when they want to indicate what state they have come from.

Our Massachusetts flower is naturally the trailing arbutus, and that ought to be formally adopted as our emblem. At the Grand Army encampment nearly every state delegation wore something which was characteristic of the state. We comprehend ourselves better if we divide ourselves up by forty-four, and there are enough plants and flowers to go around.—Boston Transcript.

Andrews Nighted in Mid-Ocean.

MADRID, Aug. 20.—The captain of the steamship Vera Cruz, which has arrived at Corunna, passed, in mid-ocean, Captain Andrews, who is making the voyage from Atlantic City to Huelva alone in a small boat. The captain of the Vera Cruz offered to help Andrews, and tried to induce him to accept food and water. Andrews declined all aid, and requested only that the captain of the steamship deliver a letter to United States Consul Carriart, in Corunna. Captain Andrews said that he was well, but that he had been delayed by unfavorable weather.

Mrs. Belleville Moss, of Covington, is visiting Mrs. J. M. Walton.
 Mrs. Dr. J. M. Frazee and daughter, Miss Fannie, of Maysville, are visiting at J. H. Walton's.
 The Misses Connell, Miss Anna Pepper and Mr. J. B. Jolly are attending the Teachers' Institute at Brooksville.
 Mr. Langhorne Anderson, the enterprising agent of the Bodmann Tobacco Warehouse, and his sister, Miss Lizzie, were in town Monday.
 Last Saturday the base ball club at this place defeated the visiting Sharon team; score, 24 to 19. To-day our boys will visit Higginsport to play with the club at that place.
 A large concourse of people from this place and Mt. Olivet, and the hill country about Bridgeville, assembled at the latter place Sunday afternoon to witness the immersion of thirty-four subjects by the hands of Elder McLelland.
 Quite a number left our town and neighborhood for the far West last Friday. Mrs. Amanda Elliott and daughter, Maggie, will go to Nebraska to spend a year or two with relatives. Misses Jennie and Sadie Bishop go to the same State to engage in teaching, and Miss Clara Griffith to attend school.

MORANSBURG.

John Peck and sister, of Minerva, were visiting here last Sunday.
 John Storer took in the camp meeting near Bentonville, Ohio, last Sunday.
 The much vexed question of beer license is up again at this place, and petitions are being freely circulated both ways.
 Henry Huebanks and Miss Lula Chamberlain visited the family of Mr. Howard Rosser, near Minerva, last Sunday.
 Joe Richardson and Thos. Kerr will start on a pilgrimage to Kansas City, and other points in Missouri, next Sunday.

The public school will begin here the first Monday in September, with Jerome Applegate as teacher. This insures a good school for the term. It will be his second term at this place.

Jim Osborne had quite an exciting experience one day last week. He was engaged stacking straw when the high rick he was on toppled over and buried him. He finally scrambled out with the remark "You can't keep a good man down."

Parks' Hill Camp Meeting.

To impart variety to my camp meeting experience, to add relish now and then to the religious hash I dish up daily for your popular paper, I took a little railroad run one afternoon this week to see and hear Sylvester M. Martin, the noted thirty-six-year-old St. Louis evangelist, who is electrifying the Parisians and all their country cousins. His personal presence is imposing; youthful, cleanly-shaven face, Prince Albert black suit, white vest, 230 pounds in weight, six feet high, scholarly style, manner earnest, impressive, magnetic. He has been compared by a cultured lady to the great tragedian Edwin Booth in his splendid physique and rapid and brilliant elocution. He compels your attention. Preachers of other denominations are not much "stuck" on him. In defining his position, he uses a free lance and punctures to the quick in showing up sectarian narrowness and religious bigotry. He differs from Sam Jones in this, said our Divinity Doctor to the writer. Jones pitches into sin and sinners; Martin into rival churches and their ministers, said the D. D. He cries aloud when reviewing other sects. He is a veritable yard-wide, all-wool Campbellite, said our clerical reviewer, and unchurches all other professors who do not agree with him in his distinctive tenets. The night I heard him his subject was "Science and the Bible," and he was free from all abuse of the sects, but very hard on the scientists whose theories of to-day were all exploded to-morrow. Being charitable, non-sectarian, rather eclectic in our religious views, we took in the meeting as a scientific lecture entertainment, interspersed with lively music. The Grand Opera House, with its artistic and capacious accommodations, its bright and fashionably dressed congregation, its well-timed songs led by Easton, the practiced baritone, with organ accompaniment, will remain a pleasant memory for later reference.

During our brief sojourn in Bourbon's capital we were elegantly entertained at "Hotel Windsor," W. H. H. Johnson, manager. This is the leading hostelry of Paris, and so completely refitted and refurnished that we could scarcely recognize any of the old features of the late "Bourbon House." You can hardly realize that you are in the chief city of Bourbon as you walk out in the back yard, fanned by the Stoner breezes, the sun's rays excluded by overarching vines loaded with ripe grapes—a buckeye tree in full bearing, and dozens of summer chickens picking up the crumbs and getting ready for the head-dresser's hatchet.
 Rev. Dr. T. J. Dodd, of Covington, arrived Friday, and preached at night. He preaches Saturday also.
 Dr. Leftwich will preach Sunday. All indications favor a big turnout Sunday. J. B. H.

Notice to Floral Hall Exhibitors.

AN ADDITIONAL ATTRACTION.

The Fast Nellie W. will Trot an Exhibition Mile at the Fair Next Wednesday.

The fair company, in addition to putting out the strongest programme ever offered to its patrons, has induced Mr. Crit. Davis, the clever driver (in every sense of the word) to send the wonderful race mare Nellie W., 2:14, on exhibition mile. This mile will be simply a workout. She goes for no record and no consideration whatever, except the grateful thanks of the association. As she has to be worked out anyway, Mr. Davis has kindly consented to work her in public, on Wednesday afternoon. On last Thursday she trotted the Nicholasville track in 2:14 easily, pulling up away above the finish. Mr. Davis thinks she can trot the Maysville track in 2:10.

Nellie W. has quite a history. She was raised at Barstow, Ky. Coming from an obscure family of horses with no speed and but little trotting breeding she has forced herself to the front and in the hands of a farmer, she has defeated nearly every crack trotter. This is her first season in Mr. Davis' hand. She was sick all the spring and is just now rounding in form. It is believed she can defeat any trotter living in a contest against time or in a race—with the exception of Kentucky's Nancy Hanks. This will likely be the fastest mile ever trotted over the Maysville track, and probably the fastest most Maysvillian's have ever seen. Let all go out Wednesday and see it.

Uncle Jack Hook is here and rapidly improving, so the great Dr. Sparks will certainly start in Thursday's race. Limestone Farm's Black Ide got home last night. Cecil Brothers' stable also came in from Danville, and Pepper's stable from Frankfort. The stables are filling up with the trotters and pacers.

The State Executive Committee of the People's party has perfected arrangements to have General Weaver and General Field, the nominees of that party for President and Vice-President respectively, to make speeches in this State in September. The places at which they will speak have not yet been selected.

JAMES O'LEARY, stone mason employed on the L. and N. bridge at Lexington street, was paid off yesterday morning. In the afternoon he went back, and got into a dispute with the foreman, Silas Armstrong, who finally struck him with a crowbar and knocked him off the abutment. O'Leary fell about thirty feet, breaking two of his ribs. He received a severe wound on the head also. Armstrong is under $100 bond to answer the charge.

It is said Governor Brown will also veto the Attorney's bill passed by the present Legislature. If this is done Commonwealth Attorneys will get the $2,500 salary, it being provided for under the old law, and not be paid by fees, as contemplated in the Constitution. Failure to pass the Circuit Judge salary bill, which proposed to reduce salaries of Circuit Judges to $2,400, will enable the Judges of the State to draw their customary $3,000 for the next six years.

A FOREIGN TRIUMPH.

Sells Brothers' Circus Return Crowned With Victorious Wreaths.

On the sixteenth of October last Sells Brothers' Big Show sailed from San Francisco for Sydney, Australia; inaugurating the most extraordinary and venturesome tour of its kind on record. Leading journals of America backed its pluck and enterprise. Their promises made to the people of Australia certainly suggested the biggest feat of animate wonders and amazing acts ever spread before an eager throng, and of the tens and hundreds of thousands who patronized the show during its six months' of Australian season not one, it is safe to say, went away disappointed, dissatisfied.

It is evident that only merit, and that of the most pronounced kind, could secure good words from a not overpartial, independent and critical foreign press; and when it unanimously conceded, as it did even before the show was able to utilize a single horse in any way, that its surpassing greatness was no vain boast, it settled the question of honest supremacy both at home and abroad. The great Sydney dailies remarked that multiplying circuses and stages and entertainments might appear at first sight to be a waste of energy and talent, but there was no denying the impressiveness that it lends to the show as a whole. That space failed them to note all the striking features of a programme almost as complicated as a railway time-table. This one thing, however, remained distinctly clear: that in Sells Brothers' amusement arithmetic, ciphers don't count. No aggregation of them will make a unit; neither will any number of commonplace things and unknown fill-ups make a great show. The Messrs. Sells know this, and their united grand Australian living exhibit, monster menagerie, regal Roman hippodrome, triple circus, elevated Olympian stage, aerial displays, tribe of wild Bedouin warriors, children's fairland frolics, darkest Africa aquarium, spectacular pilgrimage to Mecca, and Arabian Nights entertainments include and represent only that which is most wonderful, excellent, exciting and refined. From performing mammoth, or huge disporting amphibia, to daintiest detail, there is nothing inferior or commonplace about this extraordinarily rich and attractive alliance. It possesses every feature, feat and display of both home and foreign origin, in keeping with such an entertainment, that can be procured, and many nowhere else to be seen; and all will be exhibited at Maysville on Wednesday, September 7th, just as advertised, and with the honorably won prestige of holding first place in two great empires, thousands of miles apart.

"For the last ten years," says ex-Governor Cheney, of New Hampshire, to the New York Tribune, "a change of 300 votes would have secured the State to the Democrats, and that shows what an exceedingly narrow margin Republicans have to work upon."

THE partnership between Kackley & McDougle was dissolved by mutual consent Thursday, the latter retiring from the firm. The business will be continued at the old stand by J. T. Kackley & Co., who assume all liabilities of the old firm and will collect all accounts. Mr. McDougle remains with the house as salesman. See notice.

RIGHT REV. BISHOP MAES, of this diocese, will announce the programme for the celebration of the discovery of America to-morrow. There is to be a high mass at all the Catholic churches on the 12th of October. On the 13th of October all Catholic societies are to attend communion. On the 21st of October all the Catholic societies and knights are to have a parade.

A WRITER in the St. Louis Republic claims that camp meetings originated in Kentucky in the year 1800 at Gasper river church, in Logan County, and became established during the great Kentucky revival early in the century. It is claimed that both Presbyterians and Methodists participated in the earlier meetings, though the camp meeting is now looked upon as distinctly a Methodist institution, says the Louisville Courier-Journal.

WIPED OUT BY FIRE.

Geneva, Ohio, Almost Entirely Destroyed.

TOTAL LOSS ABOUT $200,000.

Nearly Every Business House in the Place Burned—Cleveland, Painesville and Ashtabula Called on for Engines. Origin of the Fire Unknown.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 20.—Fire broke out at 2:45 o'clock Friday morning in Geneva, forty-five miles east of here, in the rear of Craine's drug store on West Broadway, and quickly spread to adjacent buildings on either side. The local fire engine, manned by a volunteer company, was run out and a fractions team attached to it, which became frightened and ran away, disabling the engine and leaving the town to the unchecked mercy of the flames.

Dispatches were sent to Cleveland, Painesville and Ashtabula for aid. It was daylight when the Cleveland engine arrived, and by that time the destruction was widespread. The engines called from Ashtabula and Painesville were at work, and the flames were prevented from spreading further.

The three hotels and nearly every business place were completely destroyed between the Lake Shore railroad track and Main street. Altogether twenty-four buildings were burned, comprising business houses mainly, partly occupied as dwellings in the upper stories, and four residences.

The total loss will be about $200,000. The origin of the fire is unknown, but it was undoubtedly of incendiary origin.

The following firms were burned out: E. R. Cowles, grocery, stock mostly saved, building burned, loss, $2,000.

I. C. Chamberlain & Sons, clothing, boots and shoes, loss, $26,000; insured for $15,000.

C. Craine, druggist, stock loss $9,000; insured for $7,000.

Knight & Marsh, stock total loss; insured for $5,000.

Munger & Tate, six brick buildings and one frame building, loss $40,000; insured for $20,000.

Gray's hotel, loss $4,000; insured for $2,500.

Whittington hotel, loss $7,000; insured for $3,500.

Tuller House, loss $6,000; insured for $4,000.

Ed Dennison, loss $1,200.

J. P. Woolworth's frame building, loss $12,000; insurance not learned.

S. P. Means, photograph gallery, loss $2,000; insured for $1,000.

B. Wetmore, frame building, loss $2,500; insured for $1,700.

Wade & Hines, grocers, loss $2,000; insurance not learned.

William Jackman, feed store, loss $700; insurance $400.

Charles Talcott, music store, $4,000; insurance, $3,000 on building and contents.

George McBride, loss $2,000.

J. T. Whitely & Company, meat market, loss, $25,000.

Thaddeus Mills, livery stable, loss, $1,500; contents mostly saved.

F. A. Brown & Company, druggists, loss $4,000; insurance not known.

H. C. Graves & Company, clothing, loss $5,000; insurance not known.

H. Gould, boots and shoes, mostly saved.

B. Bennett, undertaker, goods partly saved.

H. Holden, photographer, loss, $1,500; partly insured.

Ung Wohe, Chinese laundry, goods saved.

Stobes' building, loss $5,000; insured for $1,000.

W. Sinkire, restaurant; loss small.

D. S. Robertson's barn and Calvin Stobe's barn both burned.

George Martin's livery stable, contents saved.

SHOT DOWN.

A Sensational Murder in a Cincinnati Saloon.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 20.—About 3 o'clock Friday afternoon J. F. Menne, proprietor of the Centennial hotel, on Fifth street, opposite the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton depot, was shot down in his beer saloon by John J. Miller, of Chicago. No one was in the room at the time.

Four shots were fired, three of which took effect in Menne's body. One struck his right arm, another his hand and the third just above the heart.

Officer Tim Hanley heard the shots and burst into the room just as the victim fell. The murderer turned on him with the gun, but was quickly knocked down. He was taken to Central station.

Menne was cared for by Drs. Cleveland and Brown, who pronounced his injuries fatal.

Miller is a coal merchant at Chicago. Two years ago his wife left him, taking $5,000 of his money. She came to Cincinnati and began living at Menne's hotel. About two weeks ago Miller came to the police headquarters with the story that the woman had poisoned his two children by a former wife. Miller himself was charged in Chicago with murdering his first wife, but was dismissed.

Officer Hanley was the only one to even partially witness the tragedy. Just as he burst in the door of the barroom Miller was shouting: "You will take my wife from me, will you? Take that, and that!"

After his arrest the murderer said: "I walked in the bar room and Menne asked how my wife was insolently. He then stepped around the corner of the bar and I pulled my gun and shot him."

Immediately after the shooting the bleeding form of Menne was carried upstairs by his children, who had hastened to the scene.

Miller is well known in Chicago business circles.

Run Down by a Cable Car.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 20.—While playing at Seventh and Fitzwater streets last night at 8:30 o'clock, Rosie Farrizins, aged five years, and Mamie Marcusi, aged five years, were run down by a cable car and killed. James Buck, the gripman, was arrested.

Illustrated Signs.

The pictorial sign is but little seen in this country. Among the few that we find are the District Telegraph company's pictures, showing deceptive representations of fast speeding messenger boys, and the colored signboards used by nearly all costumers, some East Broadway modistes and a few Bowery tailors. One clothing establishment had the rather original idea of placing portraits of all the members of the firm between the windows of the building, and the same plan was later on followed by an "electrical belt" doctor on Broadway.

The back view of a gentleman with a very high collar is a familiar sign on one of the city's laundries, and Steve Brodie has had the scene of his first exploit reproduced in color. At Eighth avenue and One Hundred and Thirty-fifth street a shoemaker has for many years hung out a signboard showing a cobbler with a kit on his back mounting a horse and the inscription, "Won't you help me up?"—New York Times.

No Title for Whittier.

I notice that you refer to the poet Whittier as "Mr. Whittier." This, I take it, is in bad taste. Call him Whittier, John G., John Greenleaf or Friend Whittier, but never "Mr." Whittier. He belongs to that pure democracy of Quakerism that permits no prefixes or titles to proper names—no "Mr.," no "Rev.," no "Hon.," no "Esq.," but plain John, James, Charles, Dora, Rebecca, etc. It does not accord with the generally accepted feeling toward him. The good Quaker poet is nearer to the hearts of our American readers than any other living poet, and those readers are sensitively exacting in the particular of the treatment accorded him by others.—Cor. Chicago News-Record.

An Accomplished Parrot.

On Sacramento street, near Kearny, on any sunny afternoon one can see hanging in front of a Chinese store a large cage containing a green parrot, which bird is a most distinguished linguist. He possesses the faculty, so rare among foreigners, of speaking Chinese. He also speaks Spanish and English. To a singsong question addressed to him in Chinese by his owner the parrot gravely replied, "Pretty Polly, goodbye," while in answer to the stereotyped query, "Polly want a cracker?" he burst into a flood of Chinese. He evidently scorned to reply to the time honored query, there being no cracker in sight.—San Francisco Examiner.

SYRUP OF FIGS

ONE ENJOYS

Both the method and results when Syrup of Figs is taken; it is pleasant and refreshing to the taste, and acts gently yet promptly on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, cleanses the system effectually, dispels colds, headaches and fevers and cures habitual constipation. Syrup of Figs is the only remedy of its kind ever produced, pleasing to the taste and acceptable to the stomach, prompt in its action and truly beneficial in its effects, prepared only from the most healthy and agreeable substances, its many excellent qualities commend it to all and have made it the most popular remedy known.

Syrup of Figs is for sale in 50c and $1 bottles by all leading druggists. Any reliable druggist who may not have it on hand will procure it promptly for any one who wishes to try it. Do not accept any substitute.
